

Quapaw Indian Agency, } ss.
Wyandotte, Oklahoma.

In the matter of a hearing to be held before Ira C. Deaver, Superintendent, in the heirship case of Alexander Mudd, deceased Quapaw allottee, No. 177, continued from September 24, 1913, comes now, Charley Quapaw Blackhawk, Quapaw allottee, No. 1, who is of legal age, and first being duly sworn, answers the following questions:

- Q. What is your name and age, and of what tribe of Indians are you a member?
A. My name is Charley Quapaw Blackhawk, I am about 83 years of age, and a member of the Quapaw Tribe of Indians.
- Q. Were you acquainted with Alexander Mudd, deceased?
A. Yes, I knew him.
- Q. Was Alexander Mudd a man or a boy when he died?
A. He was a man, but young.
- Q. Was he married, and did he have any children?
A. No sir.
- Q. Who was Alexander Mudd's father?
A. His name was E-bas-ka.
- Q. What was Alexander Mudd's mother's name?
A. Her name was Kah-stet-tah.
- Q. Is Kah-stet-tah and E-bas-ka dead?
A. Yes.
- Q. Did E-bas-ka and Kah-stet-tah have any other children?
A. I knew of one other, a daughter, who died in girlhood.
- Q. Who was E-bas-ka's father?
A. His name was Ah-he.
- Q. Who was E-bas-ka's mother?
A. I do not remember her name, but I remember of seeing her in Ottawa, Kansas, where she died. She was my father's sister.
- Q. Did Ah-he have any other children, except E-bas-ka?
A. He had two other children, a son and a daughter, both of whom died long ago, leaving no children.
- Q. Was your aunt of whom you spoke, the mother of these two children?
A. Yes, she was the mother of all three of said children.
- Charley Blackhawk*